So much to experience at an AMAZING price!
- Members: $250
- Nonmembers: $320
- Students: $120
- Groups of 5 or more members who register together: $200 per person

Your ability to connect with educational speakers, industry leaders, and neonate nurses from all over the world is just a few clicks away!

NANN VIRTUAL
ANNUAL CONFERENCE
A brand new experience.
LIVE OCTOBER 21-23, 2020 | ON DEMAND THROUGH MARCH 1, 2021
Register at nann.org/conference
CONNECT, DISCOVER, AND TRANSFORM WITH NANN

2020 YEAR OF THE NURSE

As the world continues to manage the impact of the global pandemic, the entire health care community—especially nurses—has taken to the front lines, contributed time and talents in new ways, shown immense innovation and creativity, and persevered together. Although the year may always feel celebratory, a bright light shines on the nursing community, truly making this the Year of the Nurse.

Join your neonatal nursing peers from all over the world for the state-of-the-art NANN Virtual Annual Conference. Together, we’ll experience the latest clinical education and fine tune our vision for the decade ahead. We’ll create new bonds, renew old and leave inspired to make exciting changes that transform you, your career, and the care provided in your home unit.

NANNP APRN SUMMIT
Racial Disparities in Birth Outcomes: Considering the Environment Outside of the Hospital Walls

In the United States, our NICUs are disproportionately populated by non-Hispanic Black infants because of high preterm birth rates among Black women. Health care worker’s work challenges us all to move outside of our hospital walls to consider factors beyond individual women’s control such as pollution and exposure to neighborhood violence that together may contribute to unequal chances at a healthy term birth.

She proposes that a societal movement will be required to address inequality that starts before an infant even takes a breath.

NANNP APRN Summit offers additional educational content on advanced neonatal nursing care, specifically focused to neonatal nurse practitioners and clinical nurse specialists.

6 TIPS TO GET THE MOST FROM NANN VIRTUAL

We know a virtual conference may conjure up lots of questions and we have answers! Here are our top tips for getting the most from the NANN Virtual Annual Conference.

EXPECT THE BEST
There is nothing right like a NANN conference and that will be the case virtually, too. Look forward to the most exciting speakers and educational topics and many interactive ways to connect with your neonatal nursing peers and industry leaders.

VIRTUAL HELP IS HERE
Experiencing conference over technology can be tricky. But we’ll host practice sessions, share informational videos, and be there to help should questions arise.

THERE’S SO MUCH TO EXPERIENCE
The virtual format means you’ll be able to experience more educational sessions than you could in person. Join during the scheduled conference dates or on demand as your schedule allows.

CONNECT WITH SPEAKERS DURING SESSIONS
Promoted sessions allow presenters to be available for live chat and Q & A during their presentations. Need to watch later? The chat conversation will still be available for you to access later.

NETWORKING IN THE VIRTUAL WORLD
We may be physically distant, but we’ll be socially connected in the virtual conference. Find your way to chat, connect, and learn from each other throughout the conference and even while watching on-demand sessions.

LEARN FROM INDUSTRY LEADERS
Our industry partners make what we do possible, so be sure to spend time with them in our virtual expo, attend breakout demos, and take opportunities to connect.

2020 KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

Opening GENERAL SESSION
When Medicine Fails or is Uncertain: Perspectives from a Hybrid Parent, Patient, and Physician

LAURA SHERLOCK, MD

Laura Sherlock is an Assistant Professor in Neonatal-Perinatal Medicine at University of Colorado, who was drawn to the field with a deep calling to advocate for sick neonates and their families during a time of vulnerability. As the victim of a SIDS and on an accident while 36 weeks pregnant in 2009, she experienced as a patient and parent how enhanced and nurtured her resilience as a provider, that personal and professional growth has been built on a foundation of practicing compassion to self, others on the medical team, as well as families.

Second GENERAL SESSION
Ethical Considerations at the Edge of Viability: Perspective is Everything

FRANK XAVIER PLACENCIA, MD MSc

Dr. Placencia is a neonatologist and ethicist. He is one of the founding members of the ethics consult service at Texas Children’s Hospital, and a member of the Tulane University School of Medicine Ethics and Health Policy. His research focuses on helping families make better informed decisions. Building upon the four principles, he will explore the different ethical considerations, with special attention to the principle of justice. He will also explore how perspectives influence how we view the “truth” of a controversy.

Closing GENERAL SESSION
Purpose, Passion, and a Path Forward

LORI ARMSTRONG, DNP RN NEA-BC

Call it a profession, a calling, a vocation, or even freak of nature, nursing is an uncommon gift and privilege. As we nurses are called into a sacred role, we face many rewards and challenges. Join us during this an engaging and timely conversation of what is often the most vulnerable and tragic time of their lives. This closing keynote will help you reconnect to your purpose, find your passion, and challenge you to move forward on a new path of envisioned possibilities.

See the full conference schedule at nann.org/conference
NANN VIRTUAL ANNUAL CONFERENCE

So much to experience at an AMAZING price!

- Members: $250
- Nonmembers: $320
- Students: $120
- Groups of 5 or more members who register together: $200 per person

Your ability to connect with educational speakers, industry leaders, and neonatal nurses from all over the world is just a few clicks away!

NANN is all about empowering nurses!

Share Your Conference Plans with us
#NANNVirtual

2020 hottopics
Early Viability • Racial Disparities
COVID-19 • Probiotics
Wireless and Flexible Biosensors
Delirium in the NICU • Congenital Heart Defects

NANN VIRTUAL ANNUAL CONFERENCE

A brand new experience.

LIVE OCTOBER 21-23, 2020 | ON DEMAND THROUGH MARCH 1, 2021

Register at nann.org/conference

NANN VIRTUAL ANNUAL CONFERENCE

A brand new experience.

LIVE OCTOBER 21-23, 2020 | ON DEMAND THROUGH MARCH 1, 2021

New this year, 4 designated tracks:
APRN | BEDSIDE/CLINICAL RN | EDUCATORS & LEADERS | CHILDREN’S HOSPITAL

OVER 40 HOURS OF CNE
As the world continues to manage the impact of the global pandemic, the entire health care community, especially nurses, has taken to the front lines, contributed time and talents in new ways, shown immense innovation and creativity, and persevere together. Although the year may not always feel celebratory, a bright light shines on the nursing community, truly making this the Year of the Nurse.

Join your neonatal nursing peers from all over the world for the state-of-the-art NANN Virtual Annual Conference. Together, we’ll experience the latest clinical education and fine tune our vision for the decade ahead. We’ll create new nursing friends and leave inspired to make exciting changes that transform you, your career, and the care provided in your home unit.

We know a virtual conference may conjure up lots of questions and we have answers! Here are our top tips for getting the most from the NANN Virtual Annual Conference.

6 TIPS TO GET THE MOST FROM NANN VIRTUAL

EXCEPT THE BEST.
There is nothing shy about this NANN conference and that will be the case virtually, too. Look forward to the most exciting speakers and educational topics and many interactive ways to connect with your neonatal nursing peers and industry leaders.

VIRTUAL HELP IS HERE.
Experiencing conference over technology can be tricky. But we’ll host practice sessions, share international videos, and we’ll be there to help should questions arise.

THERE’S SO MUCH TO EXPERIENCE.
The virtual format means you’ll be able to experience more educational sessions than you could in person. Join during the scheduled conference dates or on demand as your schedule allows.

CONNECT WITH SPEAKERS DURING SESSIONS.
Prominent sessions allow presenters to be available for live chat and Q&A during their presentations. Need to watch later? The chat conversation will still be available for you to access later.

NETWORKING IN THE VIRTUAL WORLD.
We may be physically distant, but we’ll be socially connected in the virtual conference. Find many ways to chat, connect, and learn from each other throughout the conference and even while watching ‘on-demand’ sessions.

LEARN FROM INDUSTRY LEADERS.
Our industry partners make what we do possible, so be sure to spend time with them in our virtual expo, attend breakout demos, and take opportunities to connect.

OPENING GENERAL SESSION
When Medicine Fails or is Uncertain: Perspectives from a Hybrid Parent, Patient, and Physician

LAURA SHERLOCK, MD
Laura Sherlock is an Assistant Professor in Neonatal-Perinatal Medicine at the University of Colorado, who was drawn to the field with a deep calling to adoptive care for sick newborns and continue care for her son during a time of vulnerability. As the victim of a stillbirth and a false arrest, these two events in 2020, he experienced as a parent and partner, have enhanced and nurtured her resilience as she provides moral and professional care. She has been building a foundation of practicing compassion to self, others on the medical team, as well as families.

SECOND GENERAL SESSION
Ethical Considerations at the Edge of Viability: Perspective is Everything

FRANK XAVIER PLACENCIA, MD, MS
Dr. Placencia is a neonatologist and ethicist. He is one of a handful members of the ethics consult service at Texas Children’s Hospital, and a member of the Baylor College of Medicine Center for Ethics and Health Policy. His research focuses on helping families make better informed decisions. Building upon the four principles, he will explore the different ethical considerations, with special attention to the principle of justice. He will also explore how perspectives influence how we view the “truth” of a priority.

CLOSING GENERAL SESSION
Purpose, Passion, and a Path Forward

LORI ARMSTRONG, DNP RN NEA-BC
Call it a profession, a calling, a vocation, or even just a passion; nursing is an amazing honor and privilege. As we nurses are called into a sacred space to care and love for those during what is often the most vulnerable and tragic time of their lives. This closing keynote will help you reconnect to your purpose, find your passion, and challenge you to lay forward on a new path of sustainable opportunities.

See the full conference schedule at nann.org/conference
NANNP APRN SUMMIT
Racial Disparities in Birth Outcomes: Considering the Environment Outside of the Hospital Walls
In the United States, the NICUs are disproportionately populated by non-Hispanic Black infants because of high preterm birth rates among Black women. Heather Burris’ work challenges all of us to move outside of our hospital walls to consider factors beyond individual women’s control such as pollution and exposure to neighborhood violence that together may contribute to unequal chances at a healthy term birth. She proposes that a societal movement will be required to address inequity that starts before an infant even takes a breath.

We know a virtual conference can conjure up lots of questions and we have answers! Here are our top tips for getting the most from the NANN Virtual Annual Conference.

EXPECT THE BEST. This is nothing shy of a NANN conference and that will be the case virtually, too. Look forward to the most exciting speakers and educational topics and many interactive ways to connect with your neonatal nursing peers and industry leaders.

VIRTUAL HELP IS HERE. Experiencing conference over technology can be tricky. But we’ll host practice sessions, share informational videos, and we’ll be there to help should questions arise.

THERE’S SO MUCH TO EXPERIENCE. The virtual format means you’ll be able to experience more educational sessions than you could in person. Join during the scheduled conference dates or on demand as your schedule allows.

CONNECT WITH SPEAKERS DURING SESSIONS. Presenter-driven sessions allow presenters to be available for live chat and Q & A during their presentations. Need to watch later? The chat conversation will still be available for you to access later.

NETWORKING IN THE VIRTUAL WORLD. We may be physically distant, but we’ll be socially connected in the virtual conference. You’ll find many ways to chat, connect, and learn from each other throughout the conference and even while watching on-demand sessions.

LEARN FROM INDUSTRY LEADERS. Our industry partners make what we do possible, so be sure to spend time with them in our virtual expo, attend breakfast demos, and take opportunities to connect.

2020 KEYNOTE SPEAKERS
Opening GENERAL SESSION
When Medicine Fails or is Uncertain: Perspectives from a Hybrid Parent, Patient, and Physician
LAURA SHERLOCK, RN
Laura Sherlock is an Assistant Professor in Neonatal Critical Care Medicine at the University of Colorado, who was drawn to the field with a deep calling to adapt for sick neonates and their families during a time of vulnerability. As the victim of a TBD and her son accident while 36 weeks pregnant in 2019, she experiences as a parent and partner have enhanced and matured her resilience as a provider, and the personal and professional growth has been built on a foundation of practicing compassion to self, others on the medical team, as well as families.

Second GENERAL SESSION
Ethical Considerations at the Edge of Viability: Perspective is Everything
FRANK XAVIER PLACENCIA, MD MS
Dr. Placencia is a neonatologist and ethicist. He is one of the founding members of the ethics consult service at Texas Children’s Hospital, and a member of Baylor College of Medicine’s Center for Ethics and Health Policy. His research focuses on helping families make better informed decisions. Building on the four principles, he will explore the different ethical considerations, with special attention to the principle of justice. He will also explore how perspective influences how we view the “truths” of a controversy.

Closing GENERAL SESSION
Purpose, Passion, and a Path Forward
LORE ARMSTRONG, DNP RN NEA-BC
Call it a profession, a calling, a vocation, or even a calling to serving those in an immensely challenging profession. As we are called into a sacred space of trust and care for those in the midst of what is often the most vulnerable and tragic time of their lives. This closing keynote will help you reconnect to your purpose, find your passion, and challenge you to step forward on a new path of sustained opportunities.
NANN VIRTUAL
ANNUAL CONFERENCE
A brand new experience.
LIVE OCTOBER 21-23, 2020 | ON DEMAND THROUGH MARCH 1, 2021
Register at nann.org/conference

So much to experience at an AMAZING price!
- Members: $125
- Nonmembers: $130
- Students: $120
- Groups of 5 or more members who register together: $200 per person

Your ability to connect with educational speakers, industry leaders, and neonatal nurses from all over the world is just a few clicks away!

HIGHLIGHTS
INTERACTIVE POSTERS • CHAT ROOMS AND BREAKOUT EXPERIENCES
SPEAKER-MODERATED SESSIONS • AFFORDABLE, SAFE CONFERENCE OPTION
WATCH LIVE OR LATER

“NANN is all about nurses empowering nurses!”

Share Your Conference Plans with us #NANNVirtual

2020 HOT TOPICS
- Early Viability • Racial Disparities
- COVID-19 • Probiotics
- Wireless and Flexible Biosensors
- Delirium in the NICU • Congenital Heart Defects

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF NEONATAL NURSES
2130 W. Higgins Rd
Chicago, IL 60631