

CELEBRATING

Neonatal NURSES WEEK

IN THE

2020
YEAR OF THE NURSE

Monday, Sept. 14 – Sunday, Sept. 20

It may be the Year of the Nurse, but who would have thought a global pandemic would be part of the party plan?

Nurses all over the world are working tirelessly to save the most fragile neonatal lives, collaborating closely with patient families, and advocating for the neonatal nursing profession. Especially during these unprecedented times, we are thrilled to showcase the meaningful and impactful neonatal nursing profession with NANN's weeklong celebration.
