Nurturing Your Passion for Neonatal Nursing

NANNP'S APRN SUMMIT

National Association of Neonatal Nurse Practitioners
A division of NANN

NANNP's APRN Summit offers additional educational content on advanced neonatal nursing care, specifically tailored to neonatal nurse practitioners and clinical nurse specialists.

After the many challenges we've faced in the last 18 months, it's time to focus on rejuvenating ourselves for the years ahead. At NANN's VIRTUAL 37th Annual Conference, we'll nurture our minds with the very latest clinical education, nurture our souls by connecting with neonatal nursing peers from all over the world, and together, create a plan for our post-pandemic normal. We'll do all this online, safely connected and together, while we excitedly await our next in-person event.

Join us at conference during Neonatal Nurses Week this year to celebrate our profession and the second Year of the Nurse. You'll leave refreshed and inspired to make innovative changes that nurture you and transform your career and the care you provide.

2021 HOT TOPICS

Indigenous Populations and Healthcare Disparities
Stacey Dawson, PhD MSN CNM

CAPT Stacey Dawson serves as the Women's Health Consultant and Advanced Practice Nurse Consultant with Indian Health Service-HQ. She will navigate attendees through the healthcare disparities faced by American Indian and Alaskan Native (AI/AN) peoples and the various barriers faced in addressing social determinants of health while focusing on innovative strategies to eliminate these inequalities in this population.

Foundational Documents for Advanced Practice Registered Nurse
Bobby Bellflower, DNSc NNP-BC FAANP

Over the next two years, education will change dramatically. Members must understand the changes that will occur. The Essentials of Education and the NTF Criteria for Nurse Practitioner Program Evaluation will serve as the foundational documents for the changes in education that will prepare nurses at all professional practice levels.

Transition to Practice Program for New Graduate Neonatal Nurse Practitioners
Linda McCarney, MSN APRN NNP-BC

APRN Practice Transition Programs (PTPs) are a newer phenomenon and emerging literature describes benefits of structured, comprehensive programs that also improve recruitment and retention. In this interactive session, attendees will join presenters as they navigate the development, implementation, and results of a nationally recognized 12-month fellowship for new graduate NNP's.

4 TIPS TO GET THE MOST FROM NANN'S CONFERENCE

EXPECT THE BEST.
There's nothing quite like a NANN conference and that is the case virtually, too. Look forward to the most exciting speakers and educational topics and many NEW ways to connect with your neonatal nursing peers and industry leaders.

THERE'S SO MUCH TO EXPERIENCE.
The virtual format means you'll be able to experience more educational sessions than you could in person. View sessions live or on demand as your schedule allows.

NETWORKING IN THE NEW WORLD.
We may be physically distant, but we'll be socially connected throughout conference. Find many ways to connect, have fun together, and learn from each other throughout the conference.

HELP IS HERE.
Experiencing conference via technology can be tricky, but we're here to help. And be sure to watch our Getting Started video on the conference homepage to learn the ins and outs of the conference website.

NANN IS THRILLED TO ANNOUNCE OUR 2021 KEYNOTE SPEAKERS!

OPENING GENERAL SESSION

What's New in Neonatology and Where Are We Headed?

MICHAEL NARVEY, MD FRCPC FAAP

Dr. Narvey is a neonatologist and social media provider of medical information in the field of Neonatology. He will walk NANN attendees through current and exciting practices in the field and then look into the future to see what's on the horizon. Prepare yourself for some controversial topics such as the artificial placenta, simulated amniotic fluid incubators, and stem cell therapy for BPD. Dr. Narvey will provide clarity on these topics and others as he examines the evidence out there so far.

CLOSING GENERAL SESSION

In Case of Emergency: A Filmmaker Witnesses Our World

CAROLYN JONES

Carolyn Jones, author and filmmaker behind The American Nurse Project and Defining Hope, spent over ten years documenting the work of nurses across the country, a journey that led her to conclude that "without them, we don't stand a chance." In this session, she will share excerpts and stories from her book The American Nurse, and her three documentary films, shedding light on some of the biggest health care challenges facing Americans today—from the opioid crisis to gun violence to behavioral health and lack of insurance—and the ways in which nurses are able to tackle them head-on.

SECOND GENERAL SESSION

COVID-19 in Pregnant Women and Neonates: What We Know of the Epidemiology, How to Treat and Prevent

PABLO SANCHEZ, MD

The COVID-19 virus and pandemic changed life as we knew it in 2020, causing the world to shut-down in order to decrease the devastating effects of illness on the population from the virus. While the spread of the virus has slowed, this virus is still with us. This session will discuss the latest information on the epidemiology, treatment, and prevention of COVID-19 in pregnant women, fetuses and neonates including vaccine safety in this population.
